

Director's Note...

Cruisin' Calypso has been a journey in some way or another for everyone involved, and boy have there been a lot of people involved in this production! There is a cast of 19, plus backstage and technical crews.

Firstly - I must thank my cast. Many of them had little or no dance experience beforehand; this led to numerous dance rehearsals where some just about killed themselves getting the steps right. Six weeks later they can move with the best of them, so watch out Dancing with the Stars! You guys rock!

Secondly - A special thank you to all involved in painting the double sided flats, led by Yvonne Mes. Without your insight and ability to bring sketches to life our stage would not be as eye catching as it is.

Even though things may not have gone to plan at all times (which is always the curse of a Director), I have thoroughly enjoyed directing this play and its cast. Everyone involved has displayed the dedication and drive needed to create a fantastic, energetic and down-right funny show for you the audience.

Hey Mon...

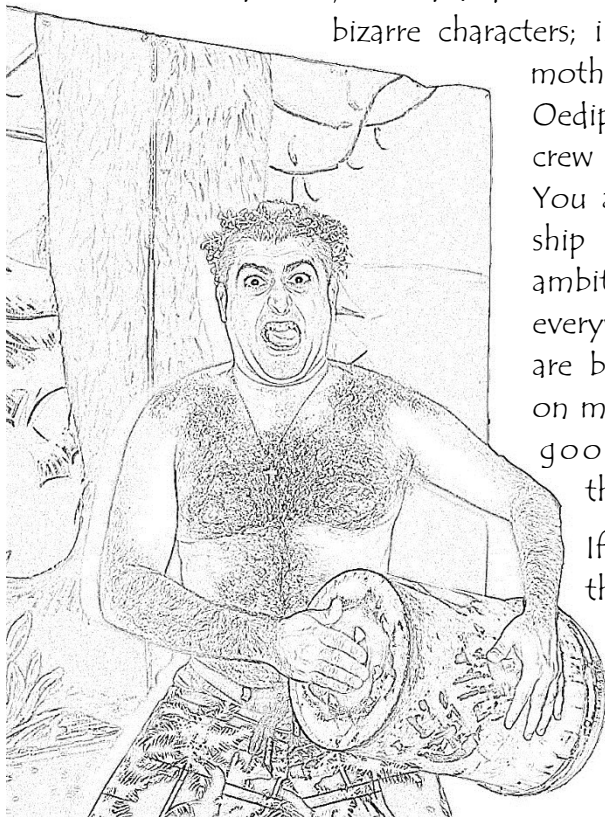

Get ready to set off on an exhilarating cruise to the exotic Caribbean, aboard the good ship SS Indulgence! Any journey into the troubled waters of the Bermuda Triangle is an adventure into the unknown... But have no fear, you will be safe in the hands of your genial tour guide, the oh-so-laid-back Rasta Ganja. He'll take you to the happening places of rum soaked Jamaica, mysterious Haiti and the scarcely populated Virgin Islands!

Nervous travellers, be warned. The islands play host to some bizarre characters; including a voodoo lady, motherless zombies with an Oedipus complex and the crazy crew from Gilligan's Island. You are not even safe on the ship itself! A stowaway with ambitions to be a star pops up everywhere; the bowling ladies are back, and they are intent on making sure everyone has a good time, including themselves.

If there is something new, they'll try it - why don't you? Book your berth for this journey into uncharted waters.
