“Caravans”

Written by John Mawson and Rob Smith

Directed by Susan Windle

Welcome to the Magic Gardens Caravan Park, where middle aged Laurie McGuire and his wife Joan are camping with Joan’s sister Heather and her husband Gunter. Gunter and Laurie both fancy themselves attractive to any women who cross their paths. They both resent Ivy, Joan and Heather’s demented mother who lives with Heather and Gunter, and have total disdain for Reg, the caravan park manager.

Things start to get interesting when some new campers turn up in the middle of the night... and the surf life savers provide musical inter-ludes between the comic relief!

Directors’ Note

CARAVANS; One last show for the road.

It is with a tinge of sadness that I hand this show over to the stage manager as it is my last one at MITS. Yes, we are buying a caravan and following the white line for a while.

It has been a bit of a challenge, as when I first read this script I had an idea of how I wanted to set the stage. Easier said than done! After a few false trails we finally sourced a caravan that we could demolish and I now have the set that I dreamed of. Auditions brought a lot of new faces into the theatre. It is gratifying to see that interest in the theatre is alive and well in Mount Isa. Community support for this show has been overwhelming and I thank each and everyone who has helped to make it happen. Thanks to everyone who has made my journey at MITS a pleasure and at times a pain. I have learnt a lot and will miss you all. See you down the road somewhere.

Cheers —Sue
